Chairman's Message

Recently, as most of you know, I spent some time in hospital and, like so many before me in the same position, I had plenty of time in which to do a lot of thinking. One of the many thoughts which came to my mind was certainly not original, but it struck me with a new force at the time.

It was the fact that we take good health so lightly and so much for granted when we have it.

During these times, the fact that we are enjoying one of our greatest gifts is forgotten amidst worries which we are convinced at the time are of the greatest importance. And it is only when we lose this gift that we get things in their right perspective and realise that these once-important worries were only teacup storms after all.

It is then that we appreciate the truth of one of the most backneyed of all old saws—that the best things in life have nothing to do with material things.

Perhaps it would do us all some good to pause every now and again and count those blessings which are free to us all, no matter what our rank and what our station.

CHIEF JUSTICE OF TONGA IN CLUB

We have had the privilege of having Club member Mr. Justice Hunter in the Club since before Christmas. The Judge, as most members know, is Chief Justice of that colourful group of islands known as Tonga. Judge Hunter, who was a well-known barrister of this city prior to his leaving Australia in 1954 to take up his duties as Chief Justice, has been a member of Tattersall's since the early 1920's. He has been over here on his three-year long leave with Mrs. Hunter, and has been spending most of his time in our surf, something which he misses in Tonga, for over there most of the beaches are "reef locked," and do not provide the breakers for surfing.

Of Tonga, the Judge says it is a wonderful place in which to live, with an ideal climate and a pleasant way of life. Its 61,000 inhabitants are mostly Tongan, with only between 200 and 300 Europeans. Copra, of course, is the main industry of the island group, and this is exported all over the world.

The Hunter family is well represented in Tattersall's, for the Judge's father, Mr. Percy Hunter, and his brother, Mr. Ken Hunter, are also members of long standing.

Judge Hunter leaves on the Mariposa for Tonga on the 15th of this month, after what he says has been a most enjoyable stay in his old home city. It was a pleasure to have you with us, Judge, and we look forward to seeing you again when your next leave comes up.

THE "OLD IRISH" FOR AIDAN DEVEREUX

According to most local bibbers, Irish whisky is, if not only for the birds, then at least only for the Irish themselves. However, this is contrary to one member's opinion, and that Aidan Devereux's. He drinks nothing else, and the odds are that if you're at the bar and you hear someone close by order a Jamieson's, you can turn around and find Aidan. Be that as it may, Aidan found good use to which to put a tot of Irish the other day when he had a report from his trainer on a young colt which he owns in conjunction with Reg Downing, the Minister for Justice.

It seems that the youngster has all the attributes of a future champion, and Aidan, although careful to avoid being carried away, is awaiting with interest the time when he starts racing. The colt is by Osborne and is out of Royal Gala, the dam of Dark Night, who, as most racing members know, is also raced by Aidan and Reg Downing.

Good luck with the youngster to you and Reg Downing, Aidan. We'll bet there'll be some Jamieson's consumed the night after he wins his first race.

PUN OF THE MONTH FROM

A. G. COLLINS

When there's humour in the air you can usually rely on a good pun or two from Committeeman Alf Collins. Apropos of the recent talk about business companies owning racehorses, the subject was being discussed in the Club the other day between Alf and a group of friends.

"Well, there's one company at least that has gone into the horse-owning business," said Alf. Everyone was immediately interested.

"Which company is that?" Alf was asked.

"The Orient Company," he replied.

"Well, I didn't know that," said one of the group.

"Oh, yes," said Alf. "As a matter of fact, any day now you can expect their Orsova from Melbourne."

CLIVE SPINKS SEES SNAKES — NO HANGOVER

If you live in the more closely settled suburban areas, such as Northbridge, where member Clive Spinks lives, any suggestion that you have seen a snake around the home usually invokes uncharitable remarks concerning alcohol from your friends. Well, Clive saw a snake the other day, and has two witnesses and the body of the deceased reptile to prove that it was a very real one indeed.

It happened this way:

After a hard day, Clive was relaxing on the patio when he was alarmed by the terrified screams of Mrs. Spinks. He was around the house in a flash, and found his wife practically face to face with a snake which had twined itself around the rail of the back steps which she had been descending. Naturally, she was petrified. However, it was Tattersall's to the rescue, for member Ralph Flemming, Clive's neighbour, attracted by the commotion and having hastily sized up the situation, hurried over with a couple of spades, and he and Clive quickly despatched the reptilian offender.

From a friend who is an authority on the subject of snakes, Clive learned that it was about a million to one on seeing a snake so close to the city.

BILL FORD MISSED ON SECOND FLOOR

His domino-playing friends on the second floor are missing the welcome presence of well-known Club regular Bill Ford of late. Unfortunately, Bill has recently undergone a lengthy illness, and has been out of circulation for some time, much to the regret of those in the Club who know him. However, we sincerely hope that it won't be too long before you're back again, Bill, for the domino games just aren't the same without you.

LONG-ESTABLISHED LEGAL FIRMS AMALGAMATE

Rumours recently circulating in the Club concerning the amalgamation of two long-established legal firms have now been confirmed. The principals of both firms have been Club members for many years, and very good friends for even longer. They are our Chairman, John Hickey, and Keith Manion, and both are looking forward to many years of success in their joint venture.

The very best wishes of the many friends they have made in the Club go with them both, and all wish them happiness and prosperity for the future.

And, talking of our Chairman, we are now very happy to report that he is out of hospital after his recent illness, and convalescing at home.

JOHN VANDENBERG ENGAGED

Congratulations to John Vandenberg on his recent engagement to Miss Jill Chapman. John, as most members know, is the eldest son of the late Ernie Vandenberg who, up to the time of his death, was a spectacular fielder, Committeeman of Tattersall's, and one of the best-loved and respected figures in racing circles. Since his death John has taken over the bookmaking business. Jill is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chapman, of Gunnamatta Bay and Edgecliff.

Your Club friends wish you and Jill every happiness for the future, John.

MUNGO BRUSH ON AGAIN

Our cryptic editorial remarks in a recent issue to the effect that the "Big Day" would occur in March can now be elucidated. We were referring, of course, to the day of departure of the usual clan for Mungo Brush, that retreat not far from Tea Gardens, where Les Tidmarsh takes a gang of kindred spirits for a week of relaxation each year about this time.

We will withhold any further details about the sojourn until we get a full report on it for next issue after the boys' return.

FAMOUS CRICKETERS IN CLUB

The first floor had a very definite cricketing atmosphere one day late last month when members Les Harrison and Billy Watson brought several guests in for a drink. Apart from Billy Watson himself, who is well known as a State bat of outstanding ability, there was Norman O'Neill, Doug Ford, West Indian John Hendriks, and international cricket writer Ernest Eytell.

Naturally enough, the conversation centred around cricket, and those present were unstinting in their praise of the recent West Indian tour. Billy Watson pronounced it the best series ever, and one which will live long in the memories of cricket lovers everywhere. We thoroughly agree, and it was very good indeed to have a bunch of such fine ambassadors for the sport in the Club.

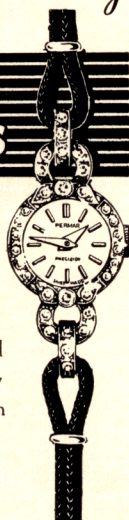

Good luck to you all, gentlemen, for the cricketing future.

70's AND OVER HAVE BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

A somewhat unusual birthday party was held in the Club last month, when five members got together with their ladies to celebrate the birthdays of two of their number. The unusual part was that all except the two whose birthday it was were seventy or over, and the two were so close to it that it didn't matter.

The members in question were Arthur Haselhurst, Ted Forrest, Bert Brown, Bill Cooper, and Manny Lyons. It was Ted and Bill's birthday, and they were both 69. We understand, from the gaiety and life of the party, that it was hard to believe that the average age of the members was 73. Anyhow, a grand night was had by all.

Good luck, gentlemen. We hope you'll all be celebrating in a similar fashion when the average is 100.

CHARLIE FORTESCUE IN JAPAN

In our mail last month came a very welcome postcard from Charlie Fortescue in Japan. The illustration on the card was of the new Imperial Hotel in Tokyo where Charlie is staying, and it certainly looked some building.

Said Charlie: "Having a good time in Japan. My wife and I are both enjoying ourselves. Just tell the boys that it isn't true. Good wishes to all."

And very good wishes to you and Mrs. Fortescue from all at Tattersall's, Charlie, although we are not quite sure what the esoteric reference about it not being true means. Well, that is, we don't think we do.

o o o

Mrs. TIDMARSH OFF TO SWITZERLAND

Mrs. Tidmarsh, or "Red" as she is known to her host of friends, wife of popular Club personality and Committeeman Les Tidmarsh, left Australia for Switzerland last month. Unfortunately, the occasion was not altogether a happy one, as "Red" has gone over for treatment for an illness that has been distressing her for some time. However, everyone is confident that the clinic course she is to receive will be successful, and that she will return to our shores 100 per cent. fit again. And if the good wishes of the Tidmarsh's friends could make it so, the result would already be a foregone conclusion.

Good luck, Mrs. Tidmarsh.

JIM WARD GIVES GRANDDAUGHTER PARTY IN CLUB

It was nice to see Jim Ward entertaining on the fourth floor late last month. The occasion was the sixteenth birthday of his granddaughter, and Jim gave her a party in the Club. Say many happy returns to the young lady for us, Jim. It was nice to know that she enjoyed Club hospitality at your hands so much.

RACING CLUB CHAIRMEN DO IT AGAIN

Sir Alan Potter, A.J.C. Chairman, and Bill Longworth, S.T.C. Chairman, have been having a lot of well-deserved racing luck lately and, during February, they "did it again."

Sir Alan's crack stayer, Valerius, chalked up an exciting win on the opening day of Rosehill when he beat champion colt, Persian Lyric, in the Parramatta Cup, and thereby jumped right into calculations for the £10,000 Invitation Stakes and the £15,000 Sydney Cup. Valerius's win in the Parramatta was particularly meritorious, as it was his first start after a spell, and he was required to carry 9.9 into the bargain. It was also a tribute to his trainer, Frank Dalton, to whose skill in preparation must go a lot of the credit.

Bill Longworth completed the double when, on the same day, his champion, Young Broga, walked away with the First Division of the Two-year-old Handicap, thereby fulfilling a long-range plan. Bill was anxious to win a race on the re-opening day of Rosehill and, in consequence, instructed his trainer, Maurice McCarten, to set Young Broga for one of the races. This Maurice did, and here again it is a tribute to his training skill that Young Broga was able to do just that.

Congratulations to Sir Alan and Bill Longworth on their fine wins.

STANLEY WOOTTON VISITS CLUB

We had the good fortune to enjoy a visit from a very well-known racing man and member of a distinguished racing family last month in the person of Stanley Wootton. He was here for a short stay, and came in to see his friends in the Club.

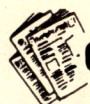

Stanley Wootton is owner of the famous Todman, and is the son of Richard Wootton, English owner-trainer of international repute. He is the brother of Frank Wootton, a jockey who was the first apprentice ever to win the English premiership.

It was a pleasure to have Stan Wootton with us, and we hope it won't be long before we see him in the Club again.

NEWCASTLE JAUNT

It seems that some time ago, on a trip to Newcastle, well-known Club personality, Tom Farrar, had blotted his driving copy book with an incident about which we were unable to obtain any reliable facts. Well, last month he and Committeeman Bill Sellen went on one of their periodical trips to that city for the racing, and Bill says he is now in a position to refute any rumour that may be flying around to the effect that Tom's driving leaves something to be desired. In fact, Bill says he'll hire Tom as chauffeur any time Tom wants the job. This possibility seems vastly remote, however, particularly in view of the punting luck that both Bill and Tom had in our northern sister city.

THE QUALITIES OF A CLUB SECRETARY

When reading a trade magazine the other day we came across this item. (Attention, Lyl Binns.) It read:

"I should like to summarize the qualities of a successful Club Secretary. He must have:

- "The curiosity of a cat.
- "The tenacity of a bulldog.
- "The determination of a taxi driver.
- "The diplomacy of a wayward husband.
- "The patience of a self-sacrificing wife.
- "The enthusiasm of a jitterbug.
- "The good humour of an idiot."
- "The simplicity of a child.
- "The assurance of a University boy.
- "The tireless energy of a rent collector."

Mr. AND Mrs. ALLEN WALKER AND DAUGHTER OFF OVERSEAS

Well-known member Allen Walker, together with his charming wife and daughter, Diana, leave our shores this month on the first "leg" of an overseas tour which will encompass five months, and will take in England, the Continent, the United States, and the East. Their first port of call is to be New Zealand, and from there they will go to America where, in the town of Buffalo, they will visit relatives. From there they will go to New York and on to London for a five-weeks stay.

Holland, France, Italy, Israel, Bangkok and home completes their itinerary, and that should make the five-months trip one full of interest and excitement.

All your Club friends wish you, your wife and your daughter a happy trip, Allen, and hope that you'll send a post-card on your way around so that your progress can be reported through these pages.

WINSTON EDWARDS BACK IN AUSTRALIA

After eight years away from our shores, Winston Edwards is back in Australia again. Winston has been living in Hong Kong for that length of time, and has been missed by his Club member friends during his absence. However, now that he is with us once more, and will no doubt be around and about the Club as of old, they will be able to make up for lost time.

MAGIC DAY FOR BON EASTMENT WITH MAGIC NIGHT

Hearty congratulations to Bon Eastment on Magic Night's victory in the Two-year-old Handicap at Rosehill last month. Magic Night scored a run-away victory when she came from behind to tackle favourite Tipperary Star in the straight, come out on top in the duel that followed, and win going away. No doubt Bon now has his sights set on the Golden Slipper, in which Magic Night will run, and all your Club friends wish you every success.

Sponsors give racing greatest boost ever

TWO £10,000 GIFTS FOR RANDWICK'S EASTER

A windfall of £39,500 from outside interests has benefited racing in two States in the last few months.

Sponsored races at the Melbourne Cup carnival received £19,500 from three business interests, and the "Daily Telegraph" and "Sunday Telegraph" will add £10,000 each to races to be run at the Randwick Easter carnival.

For the Melbourne Cup carnival in November, Black and White Whisky gave £3,250 for a Provincial Cup; W. D. and H. O. Wills put up £6,250 for the Hallmark Stakes; and Geo. Adams Tattersalls gave £10,000 for the Memorial Handicap.

The Provincial Cup was won by Barham Duke, the Hallmark Stakes by a crack West Australian, Aquanita, and the Adams Tattersall's mile by New Zealand crack Karina.

Fortified with the knowledge that these sponsors were behind them, the V.R.C. was in a financial position to put up the biggest Australian stake in horse-racing history for the Melbourne Cup, £25,000. This almost doubled previous Cups.

New Zealanders took away the major prizes, Hi Jinx, Howsie and Ilumquh, but you couldn't count the result as a dead loss to Australian turf interests. It sent Australia's wealthy patrons to New Zealand with colossal orders to buy yearlings at the January National Sales last month. They bought lavishly, and their purchases will ultimately bring kudos to the Australian Turf when they begin racing next season.

At the head of the Sydney move to sponsor our great autumn prizes is Sir Frank Packer, a member of this Club since 1928. It was he who gave the authority for this outstanding contribution to Australian racing. Sir Frank is Managing Director of Consolidated Press, which publishes the "Daily Telegraph" and "Sunday Telegraph."

He has been a breeder and owner over a long period of years, raced a cracker-jack stayer, Columnist, who won the Caulfield Cup with 9.0 and Williamstown Cup with 9.7 in record time.

At his Aluinn stud, "Roxburgh," stood Genetout, one of Australia's outstanding stallions, and sire of winners of £267,000 in prize-money.

The Invitation Stakes, to be run at Randwick over $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles on March 25, has received £10,000, and will become known as the "Daily Telegraph" Invitation Stakes. The other £10,000 goes to the "Sunday Telegraph" Doncaster Handicap, to be run over a mile on April 1.

These sums make both races the richest of their type in Randwick history, and bumper Doncaster entries resulted from all over Australia and New Zealand when nominations closed on January 23.

Armed with the knowledge that these important events would be boosted to their highest pinnacle by the "Daily Telegraph" and "Sunday Telegraph," the A.J.C. had the green light to go ahead with stake-rises on its own account, and the Club added £3,000 to the Sydney Cup to be run at Randwick on April 3, making the total £15,000 and a £500 trophy, the highest ever.

The A.J.C. also increased money for other events on the four-day programme to a total of £15,300, making an aggregate distribution of race-prizes £86,150—again the apex in Sydney Turf history.

Race executives, breeders, owners and trainers expressed delight with these added incentives to the sport of kings. All speak with one voice that this move will boost the racing game to its highest tradition as the number one sport of the nation.

Columnist, who won the Caulfield and Williamstown Cups in 1947 for Sir Frank Packer.

Sir Frank Packer, Managing Director of Consolidated Press, whose newspapers, the "Sunday Telegraph" and "Daily Telegraph," gave £20,000 for the Invitation Stakes and Doncaster, to be run at Randwick at Easter. Sir Frank has been a member of Tattersall's for 32 years.

Man of the Month

BILL LONGWORTH

As Chairman of the Sydney Turf Club, and a spectacular owner, Bill Longworth is one of the best-known figures in the racing world. He has been deeply interested in horses since his early manhood, and the Sport of Kings has always been in his blood. Such had been his integrity and reputation through the years that he was appointed a Director of the S.T.C. by the Government of the day when it brought down legislation to ban proprietary racing in 1943.

In another sport, too, Bill has made his mark, and represented Australia in the Olympic Games in 1912, after a spectacular swimming career as a schoolboy and a young man.

Perhaps Bill's success in these two fields has obscured, from those who don't know him, his similarly successful career as a businessman, for today he is a Director of some seven companies, one of which is the Australian Woollen Mills, a family concern which was started by his father.

Bill Longworth was born in the New South Wales coal-mining town of Singleton, where his father had interests in a mine. He was one of a family of ten—three girls and seven boys—and, with the other members of the family, gained his early education through what he laughingly refers to as that mid-Victorian institution, the private tutor.

This means of education was not to last for long, however, for, at the age of nine, Bill was brought to Sydney, and became a pupil of Sydney Grammar School. It was here that he began his swimming career, and won the All Schools Championship at the age of 16.

With his academic career behind him, Bill took his first job. It was as a jackeroo, and it was at this time that Bill's love for horses first formed. He learned to ride the hard way—through the scrub after a stray bullock with a stockwhip in one hand and a gun in the other. It wasn't long before he could size up a horse and know its value.

After a spell in the bush Bill returned to the metropolis, and his first commercial job was assisting his brother, who was an architect and builder. But then the war came, and he was off to it, joining the Light Horse as a private.

Bill's service career took him first to Egypt and then to France, where he served with the Australian Corps. During this time he rose to the rank of lieutenant.

With the war over, Bill returned to Australia, and went into the wool industry. He started his own business as a wholesale distributor for knitted garments, some of which came from the then young Australian Woollen Mills, the company which his father had started after leaving the mining industry.

He carried on this business until the death of his uncle, who was a Director of the family company. This made it necessary for him to take up a Directorship of Australian Woollen Mills, and he was appointed in that capacity, a position which he has held ever since.

Bill's owning career started when he bought his first horse, Land of Shadow, in partnership with his father. Previously, his father and uncle had raced horses together under the joint name of "W. T. Nowlan." They had also bred them on a property they owned at Singleton. As Bill recalls, their two most successful horses were Blue Metal, which won two Summer Cups and also the Australian Cup; and Blairgour, which took out the Futurity Stakes. Another spectacular performer of theirs was Satin Bird, which won the Epsom.

With Land of Shadow Bill and his father did no good. However, things were different with his first solely owned horse, Tantrum. Tantrum won the Adrian Knox Stakes, and started Bill on a career which was to be most successful over the years. Young Crusader was one of his early horses which proved a champion. He won the Metropolitan and established two Australian records, the one mile and five furlongs and the one and three-quarter miles. This latter record Young Crusader holds to this day.

Bill's career as a racing administrator started in 1943. In that year the Government, by an Act of Parliament, turned racing from a proprietary to a non-proprietary sport, and appointed Bill as one of the Directors of the S.T.C., which saw the light in its new form under the chairmanship of W. W. Hill. Since then Bill has become Vice-chairman and, recently, on the retirement of Mr. Tancred, Chairman.

The S.T.C. has been responsible for many racing innovations (see article in this issue), and Bill is proud of its record.

Bill has been a keen sportsman all his life. He represented the State in water polo, ice hockey and billiards. An impressive record requiring outstanding skills of so many different kinds. But it has been in swimming that he has made his most spectacular contribution.

Starting as a schoolboy champion when he won the All Schools Championship at the age of 16, he went on to win the 1,320-yard event in the Australian Championships the next year. In 1912 he went away with the Australian Olympic Swimming Team, and got into the finals of the only two events the heats of which he contested. Unfortunately, bad luck dogged him on the trip. He contracted a mastoid infection which kept him out of the finals of the two above events and precluded him from entering the heats of the other distances.

On his times it would have been pretty certain that he would have won both the 440 and the 1,500 yards gold medals, and probably gained a silver or a bronze medal in the 100 yards.

Through the war Bill won the 220-yards swimming event in the Empire Services Championships, and was also a member of the relay team which won the Inter-Allied Games in Paris.

Today Bill's S.T.C. and commercial duties take up most of his time and, though both he and his wife were keen and proficient golfers up to a few years ago, they have practically given it up. Socially, Bill and his wife Irene lead a fairly quiet life in their charming home at Wahroonga. Much of their spare time is spent with their young daughter Barbara, who—clearly following in father's footsteps—is being coached in swimming and riding.

Rosehill Re-opens

S. T. C. Crowns 75 Year's Racing

At Course

On Saturday, 25th February, 1961, the Sydney Turf Club re-opened its Rosehill Racecourse after a period of nearly 12 months. The course had been closed during this time to permit the demolition of the old official stand and the erection of a much bigger, more modern one in its place, together with improvements of a number of other facilities at the racecourse.

Mr. W. Longworth, Chairman of the Sydney Turf Club, summed up his Club's development of Rosehill since taking over from The Rosehill Racing Club Ltd. in 1947 in a message from which extracts are given below as being of interest to our members:—

"Rosehill has now been re-opened as a modern, up-to-the-minute venue for the sport of kings. Foremost among the new facilities is the Hill Stand for members, incorporating a complete section for the public.

"Rosehill has been continuously improved since the Turf Club took over. New training tracks have been added, and old tracks improved, services extended and modernised, and water supply augmented by the creation of artificial lakes forming part of an infield beautification scheme. The whole course has been re-turfed and graded, and drainage improved to handle anything short of exceptional rains. Two new Leger Stands, with totalisator and catering facilities, and a new Paddock Stand have been built, the latter offering, by ramp and escalator, easy access to a grand view of the racing. All starts are from chutes, with minimum two-furlong runs to the first turn. The home straight is over two furlongs. Trains on to the course and parking for 3,500 cars simplify travelling.

"The Hill Stand embodies the best of current constructional trends, personally surveyed by our Architects, and adapted to the detailed requirements planned by the Club. This is in line with our policy of introducing improvements and new ideas in the interest of racing generally, examples coming readily to mind being our introduction of mobile starting machines, photo finishes, and doubles totes.

"Rosehill forms part of the City of Parramatta, which this year celebrates its Centenary of Local Government. It is an asset of which Parramatta can be justifiably proud."

The Hill Stand was so called in acknowledgment of the services to racing rendered by Mr. W. W. Hill, M.B.E., first Chairman of the Sydney Turf Club and, of course, Chairman of this Club from 1932 to 1946.

The magnificent new stand is of interest to all, as it embodies many of the latest trends and features in stand design, both in Australia and overseas. On-site construction time was reduced to a minimum by basing structural design on the use of steel framework, the floors and decks being of pre-cast concrete units. The decks of the new stand, which provide comfortable seating for 2,600 people and ample standing room, were designed so that an uninterrupted view of the whole course would be available to everybody in it. To eliminate columns on the main seating deck, the roof of the stand is cantilevered over the decks to a total of nearly 50 feet. The aluminium roof, on its light blue steel supports, produces an effect of lightness. The tower housing the photo-finish equipment and electric race-timer and accommodation for the judge and assistant-judge, rises out of the roof at one end. Facilities for Press and broadcasters, the latter in special acoustically treated, individual rooms, are provided at the top deck level. On the principal deck is the main circulation space or "walk," into which the two escalators from the ground level discharge, and from which, in turn, the members' dining and lounge-bar rooms, new kitchen, and Committee section lead off. The "walk" is glass-enclosed to enable an unrestricted view over the pleasant gardens features of the infield. The members' rooms have continuous windows overlooking the betting ring, totalisator indicator board, and semaphore—in fact, a panoramic view of the general activity in the paddock enclosure.

Win and place, doubles and "Quinnella" totalisator facilities are provided on the main deck as well as on the ground floor. Here alone 33 totalisator windows are provided, and a number of these are set aside principally for the use of the general public, which has access to the top deck of the stand upon payment of a reasonable charge.

The Rails provide all-weather accommodation for 18 bookmakers, interstate as well as local, with covered-in pay-out facilities in a handy position to them. On the ground floor level, with direct access to the "bird-cage," are the official areas consisting of the Secretary's and Inquiry Offices, Stewards', Weighing and Jockeys' Rooms, the last of which includes a section for jockeys' amenities. In addition to the seating provision for the public, there is a bar with sandwich and pie facilities, to the use of which payment of the special charge into the public section of the Official Stand entitles members of the public. There is a fine new members' bar at ground-floor level from which a clear view of the "bird-cage" and winning post is obtainable.

Overall length of the Stand is 255 feet, and the width, at the widest point, 105 feet. Design and construction were in the hands of the Club's Architects, Messrs. Robertson and Marks.

Opening day was fine and hot, and a near-record attendance for Rosehill of 27,000 people came to inspect the new facilities and watch the races. The principal race was the Parramatta Cup, the trophy for which was presented by His Excellency the Governor of New South Wales.

The attendance figure noted compares with that of 3,000 racegoers who attended the first race meeting at Rosehill 75 years ago and watched a programme, on that occasion, of five races for prize-money totalling £700. By comparison, the prizemoney offered at the re-opening totalled £10,000.

The Sydney Turf Club has once again confirmed its faith in the future by its new investment at Rosehill. Mr. Longworth was recently asked whether there was any future in racing, and stated in reply:—

"The Sydney Turf Club certainly thinks so and, in fact, our settled policy is to provide first-class racing in all its aspects. To achieve this it will be necessary to improve the comfort of patrons in all enclosures by building bigger and better Stand accommodation, by extending the scope of catering and liquor services, by modernising parking facilities where necessary, and by utilising the infield and beautifying it. Betting facilities will have to be modernised, betting rings covered in, and cover given to totalisator queues.

"The Club proposes to sell Rosebery Racecourse this year and, although training facilities on that track will continue to the end of 1961, one of the most important duties facing the Club is the progressive re-establishment elsewhere of training operations under its control at Rosebery. Our aim is to put the training side of racing on a better footing. Earlier development and extension of the training tracks at Rosehill will continue, with the aim of providing training there under the best conditions for a larger number of horses. We aim at maintenance savings and more economical horse transportation. At the present time the Racing Clubs heavily subsidise horse transportation, and the costs of this represent, in the aggregate, a very substantial addition to the year's racing expenses.

"The Club looks for support from all interested bodies, from the various components of the racing industry and, not least, from the Parramatta Council, which has its special part to play in the improvement of roads and access to Rosehill."

Mr. Longworth concluded by saying that the Turf Club had noted with appreciation the many expressions of congratulation and interest received from members of the Club and from the general public after the re-opening of Rosehill.

Some members of the public, however, had said they would welcome still further additions to their comfort in the public section of the new stand, and there had been some Press comment reflecting these views. In response, the Club's Architects had already been instructed to investigate the possibility of utilisation by the public of the escalator at the southern end of the new Stand, and to look into the provision of still more totalisator facilities, toilets, etc., and possible additional catering facilities at top deck level. The extent to which the public had used the new facilities was most encouraging and, if it were any criterion of the future, clearly justified attempts to provide these extra facilities with as little delay as possible. In this regard the Stand had originally been built with sufficient free space available as a contingency for developmental work such as this.

BILLIARDS & SNOOKER PLAYERS

The Billiards and Snooker Committee wish to announce that the annual tournament will be commencing in May, and suggest that now is the time to start training.

Full details of the tournament will be set out on the notice board in the near future.

CRAVEN PLATE FINISH IN BRACE RELAY

It was an exciting month in the Pool, with plenty of interest surrounding the final stages of the Point Score, and one of the most exciting finishes ever seen on the third in the Brace Relay. In this event, barely a foot bracketed five swimmers at the finish, when George Shehadie won by a touch. The others featured in this dramatic finish—which, incidentally, brought a self-satisfied smile to the face of handicapper Clive Toole—were Sid Sernack, John Devitt, Carl Phillips and Col Bowes.

The presence of swimming identity, Jack Dexter, was sadly missed during the month, as Jack is still away at the Swimming Championships in Queensland, but his place is being ably filled by his son, Jack, Jnr.

With one race to go, Arthur McCamley and Simon Voet were level at 22 all, and Simon was placed second in the first heat. Arthur could only manage third place, but the check-starter disqualified A. McLelland for going before his time, which resulted in Arthur being placed second, and earning a well-deserved dead-heat for the January-February Point Score. (Suggested by certain members that the Gestapo were on the ball, but the writer is quite sure everything was in apple-pie order.)

Very pleasing to see Simon Voet share in the honours. He has evinced keenness, and has made a remarkable improvement during the last couple of months. Mr. Voet, Senr., has been a regular visitor to the Pool, showing a keen interest in the events, but is at present in hospital recovering from an operation. Hope to see you back with us at an early date, Sir.

The finish of the Brace Relay on February 7 had everybody on his toes, as Shehadie, Sid Sernack, John Devitt, Carl Phillips and Col Bowes hit the line as one man, Shehadie winning by inches, with a foot covering the remaining four finalists. It was a credit to handicapper Clive Hoole, who had a very wide smile from ear to ear.

As our genial, hard-working Hon. Secretary, Jack Dexter, is attending the Swimming Championships in Brisbane and then going on to Surfers' Paradise for a well-earned holiday, together with Babe Dexter, Jack's son, John, will fill in during Dad's absence, so look out for squalls—he is very tough—we only mel-low with age.

Before leaving, Jack, in a few well-chosen words, wished John Devitt and his bride-to-be every happiness, in which all the boys cheered lustily.

Welcome to new members Graham Nock and Jim Bannister. You are in good company, lads.

Best winning times of the month were: John Devitt, 17.4; David Emanuel, 18.6; Norm Rogers, 20.2, 20.5, 20.8; Bob Harris, 21.1; and Keith Longworth, 21.8.

Those whom the watch ticked off were Bruce Cameron, Arthur McCamley, Max Sernack, and A. McLelland, each losing a second.

In one of the most exciting matches seen in the Club for a long time, George McGilvray beat Bruce Partridge in the final of the Club Championship. Throughout most of the three sets the match could have gone either way, but in the latter stages of the final set George demonstrated his superior skill and overcame the very gallant runner-up. Watching the match was Jim Jacobs from the Los Angeles Athletic Club, who is U.S.A. singles handball champion, and who was most impressed with the play.

Having completed the "C" Grade Championship, with Jim Comans as the winner and Les Bear the runner-up, the Handball Committee concentrated on the most important event of the year in handball, the Club Championship. The four to make the semi-finals were:

George McGilvray v. Robert Lipman.

Bruce Partridge v. Ralph Davies.

Both these matches produced wonderful handball, and we felt that, for the first time for many years, we would have at least one new name to enter the final. It was not to be. Robert Lipman played a marvellous game to take George McGilvray to three sets, but to play "marvellous" handball is not good enough to defeat the champion. This was a very close match, with George asserting his superiority in the third set to win. The scores were 21-19, 18-21, 21-9.

The Davies-Partridge match was a beauty. This was Ralph's chance to win a major trophy, and quite a number of members thought that he would. However, like the previous match, Bruce is a past Club Champion, and many times runner-up, and his match experience was too much for Ralph, with the result that he had quite a comfortable win, 18-21, 21-15, 21-18.

This brought us to the final, with the same pair this year to fight it out:

George McGilvray v. Bruce Partridge.

Bruce Partridge won the toss and served first. The pace was on right from the beginning, with George McGilvray first to break through to lead 3-2. Going great guns, he led 10-6. Bruce now began to warm up, and drew level at 11-11, and continued winning to lead 13-11. George came back strongly at 15 all, but Bruce went ahead again to lead 18-15, and the first set looked all over "bar the shouting." George had other ideas, and he then won five points in a row to lead 20-18. Bruce won the next point, but he could not stop George winning the final point for the set, 21-19. During this set the boys played the best handball seen for some time.

The second set was a beauty, only this time Bruce turned the tables on his rival to win 21-17. He began very badly, and lost the first four points, but, such is his courage and ability, he came back to equal the score at six all. The games then see-sawed point for point, and the scores were 17-17. It was at this point that Bruce played his best, and won the set 21-17. The standard of play in this set was at least equal to that of the first set.

The final set was a very grim affair. The exertions of the first two sets had taken their toll on the players, and they slowed down somewhat in this set. When I say slowed down, I mean that the ball only appeared to be travelling at about 60 m.p.h. instead of 80 m.p.h. This set went along evenly until 11 all was called. From there McGilvray forged ahead and won six points in a row to lead 17-11. Partridge then made his last run to get to 16-19. McGilvray won the next two for the set 21-16 and the match, to retain his crown as Handball Champion of Tattersall's Club, with Bruce Partridge runner-up.

A word of thanks for Sam Block as Umpire. He did not make a mistake, and helped to make the event a worthy championship final.

Congratulations, George, for a fine win, and to Bruce our best wishes for his effort as a very gallant loser. He was the very first to give his opponent congratulations for his win.

We were very happy to have amongst those present to watch the match Jim Jacobs, of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Jim is National Handball Champion (Singles) of the U.S.A. He was most impressed by the standard of our players. He took many action shots of the match with his special camera, and he has promised us several shots for publication in the Magazine later on.

Thanks, Jim, for this gesture, and we will be pleased to receive them in due course.

Now we intend to concentrate on the "B" Graders. The semi-finalists are:—

W. W. Kirwan v. Malcolm Fuller.

M. Sernack v. Bob Adams.

The matches are now ready to be completed, and next month we will give you full details of the results.

We were sorry to read in the daily papers recently of the demise of our friend, Mr. E. R. Williams. Mr. Williams was a very good supporter of our Handball Club, having donated the "Hydrogen Trophy," a trophy that was very keenly sought after. To his family we extend our deepest sympathy, and to our Club our regrets for having lost a very fine member.

"Pairs" off to Good Start

Due to Sound Organization and Handicapping

February proved that sound organization and handicapping can do a great deal in producing more interesting, more exciting bowls than they are generally given credit for. For the organization of the first and second rounds of the Club Pairs, the credit goes to Ken Williams and, for the handicapping, to Alex Buckle.

February saw the first and second round of the Club Pairs Handicap finalised.

There were some good bowls and very close games, which were a credit to our special handicapper, Ken Williams, who was co-opted for this event.

Praise must also go to Secretary Alex Buckle for the manner in which they were run, as no doubt the Tuesday morning game, with the play or forfeit rule, also the generous allowance of substitutes, is the only answer to a quickly run event.

First round results were:—E. Thorn and F. Geddes beat P. McGrath and V. Kirby 25 to 18; G. H. Levey and A. Butler beat F. Empson and R. Spencer 19 to 18; L. Catts and J. Weymark beat H. Reid and K. Williams; F. Foskey and Ken Ranger beat I. Silk and K. Britter 17 to 16; Homer Jones and

H. Joseph beat J. Armstrong and N. Kellaway 20 to 19; R. Darch and C. Emanuel beat R. Davis and C. Davis 22 to 17; J. Phillips and J. Schofield beat J. Fox and L. Williams 24 to 21; J. Shaffran and Dr. B. Williams beat J. Harris and H. Hill 31 to 19; D. McFarlane and Maurice Watson beat F. Gawler and E. A. Davis 38 to 20; S. Clements and G. Booth beat A. McDonald and A. Buckle 22 to 11; R. Gibson and R. Relton beat L. Moss and R. Bailey 21 to 17; D. Lyon and J. Pick beat R. Bartley and G. Marshall 22 to 19; C. Rose and B. Curran beat Dr. H. Porter and C. Cohen 26 to 25; L. Burke and E. Westhoff beat W. Munro and N. Hough 22 to 17.

Second round:—J. Pick and R. Lyon beat J. Schofield and J. Phillips 27 to 10; F. Geddes and E. Thorn beat H. Jones and H. Joseph 27 to 17; B. Curran and C. Rose beat G. H. Levey and A. Butler

20 to 19; M. Watson and D. McFarlane beat C. Emanuel and R. Darch 27 to 11;

Dr. B. Williams and J. Shaffran beat J. Weymark and L. Catts 22 to 14; Mel Watson and A. Gibson beat G. Booth and S. Clements 31 to 13; E. Westhoff and L. Burke beat K. Ranger and F. Foskey 22 to 21; F. Vockler and G. Cohen beat S. Chatterton and G. Lewis 32 to 15.

BOWLER OF THE MONTH

This is Issie Silk, one of the most consistent attenders and bowlers in Tattersall's Bowling Section. His cheery comment and happy disposition have endeared him to all bowlers. Not an outstanding bowler, but with the ability to extend anyone on his day out, Issie is one of the stalwarts of the Club.

A recognised good judge of a bowl in running, if he could only put his talents to his other love, horse-racing, he would make a fortune.

BOWLS BULLETIN

Quarter-finals:—J. Pick and R. Lyon beat F. Geddes and E. Thorn 21 to 18; Maurie Watson and D. McFarlane beat C. Rose and B. Curran 28 to 18; F. Vockler and G. Cohen beat E. Westhoff and L. Burke 23 to 15; Mel Watson and A. Gibson beat Dr. B. Williams and J. Shaffran 30 to 11.

Semi-finals:—A. Gibson and Mel Watson beat F. Vockler and G. Cohen 27 to 17; D. McFarlane and Maurie Watson beat R. Lyon and J. Pick 31 to 17.

February was a good month for the Bowling Section. Regular good attendances and keen bowling were enjoyed every day. Evidence of the good games had by all certainly brings along the good bowlers consistently.

Trophy winners were:

January 26: B. Clements with visitors P. Binagi and D. Cunningham. Visitors were E. Mackie and K. Hoskins.

February 16 trophy winners were J. Lee, F. Empson, Frank Geddes. Visitors were Bob Plasto, a guest of Alf Burton, T. Lough and H. P. Brown.

March 2 trophy winners were C. Emanuel, M. Valkenberg, S. Schwarz and L. Moss.
